Sunday, February 3
Chaylek Kiatpetch def. Tuan Kor Kompanart by decision.

The knockouts started to come at the end of the week. Stephen Meleady knocked out Silathong with a knee to the head. Meleady got cut and then turned it up to overwhelm his Thai adversary. Rolex Sitsongpeenong's KO came via a nasty body shot. Here is another KO, with Rungsangtawan Sit-Ajarnboonchob knocking out Yodphetaik Sitdabauan with a vicious elbow. Oley Sitniwat's knockout came via some crushing punches.

The light flyweight title of Rajadamnern Stadium was on the line in the rematch between Ruangsak and Detkart. Ruangsak didn't stop Detkart like he did last year but he still did enough to get the win in what was a good fight.

Another good fight was between Bangpleenoi and Hongtonglek. Hongtonglek got cut but marched through it. Bangpleenoi ended up being too sharp with his kicks and knees, having an answer for everything Hongtonglek threw his way.

The action is about to pick up in a big way this coming week. There are some huge fights and fight cards between some of the sport's best coming up.
