

Bogdan Stoica was involved in a motorycle accident earlier in the year and as a result was injured and not able to train for a while.

Motorcycle accidents have severely hindered the careers of many professional athletes but it's great to bring everyone news that Bogdan Stoica is back in training and going towards a full recovery.

Stoica is the SuperKombat 91kg World Champion and regarded as one of the best kickboxers in the world around that weight. He's still only 22 years old. Before his injury, he was on a four fight win streak.

Bogdan wants to return to fight in December but will probably return at SuperKombat's first event of 2013. It's great to have one of the sport's rising stars back.
