Although Artem Levin can have what could be called "ugly" fights, he's truly a pleasure to watch when he opens up with his full arsenal. Levin is bar none the number one fighter from 77-82kg in the world for a reason, making good opponents look very average. He fights with his hands all the way down most of the time and taunts opponents to try to hit him. He fought Roberto Cocco on Sunday at the MPL's third event, and scored another spectacular finish.
