Yokkao's big event on January 26 in Milan, Italy keeps on growing, with a new match-up recently being added to the already stacked card.

Sudsakorn Sor Klinmee will fight Mickael Piscitello at 70kg in a rematch of their fight from September. That fight took place on Thai Fight in Lyon, France and Piscitello scored an upset win after cutting Sudsakorn with an elbow. The fight was competitive so this one should be good, with Sudsakorn definitely wanting to avenge that loss, as he looked very upset after the first fight.

The fight takes place in Muay Thai rules but with three rounds of three minutes. So far the fight card includes, among others:

70kg K-1: Andy Souwer vs. Dzhabar Askerov
